

Welcome to Our Sustainability & Business Course and Internship Program!

You did it!

Congratulations on taking the first step toward personal growth and making a positive impact on the world! We're excited to have you join our sustainability and business course and internship program.

To get started, please create your profile on CanopyLab, our learning partner. Through this platform, you'll have access to not only our course but also a wide range of other valuable learning resources – all for free!

Here is our link to create your profile and begin your journey.

Once you've completed the course, feel free to reach out to us. We'd love to discuss how we can further support you in both your personal and professional development.

We're here to help you every step of the way, and we look forward to seeing the incredible things you'll accomplish.

Best regards, TRRF
